Hunt Slonem might just be every decorator's favorite artist. He's right up there with Richard Serra and Donald Baechler, art stars whose works routinely turn up on the walls of some of the chicest homes—and in the pages of ELLE DECOR. The Worlds of Hunt Slonem (Vendome Press, $90), a sumptuous new catalogue of his colorful paintings of cockatoos, butterflies, and wild animals in glorious multiples, such as Ocelots and Blue Pearls, right, is bound to make him even more ubiquitous.
